

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

BOOK REVIEWS.

---

HANDBOOK OF THE LAW OF PERSONS AND DOMESTIC RELATIONS.—By Walter C. Tiffany. 3rd. Edition, by Roger W. Cooley, L.L.M., Author of Briefs on the Law of Insurance, Professor of Law School of Jurisprudence of American University, and Legal Adviser of the United States Veterans Bureau. St. Paul, Minnesota. West Publishing Company. 1921. Price $——.

In the 25 years since the first edition of this book was prepared two editions have been published and met with great success. This third edition incorporates in the notes the decisions since 1909, when the second edition was published. There has been very little change from the plan adopted by Mr. Tiffany in the first edition, as far as the text is concerned, except in the chapter on Marriage and on the Legitimacy and Adoption of Children, which bring the law up to date as to these matters. The Workman's Compensation Act has been treated at no great length except in the section dealing with Master's Liability for Injuries to the Servant. As is the case with nearly all of these hankbook series, the work is remarkably well done, and whilst admirable for the student, we have always found them a splendid starting point for every subject on which they treat.

---

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE HAGUE CONFERENCE.—Translation of the Official Text Prepared in the Division of International Law of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, under the Supervision of James Brown Scott, Director of the Conference of 1907. Volume III. Meeting of the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Commissions. New York. Oxford University Press, American Branch. 35 West 32nd. St.; London, Toronto, Melbourne and Bombay.

This 3rd Volume brings to a conclusion the Hague meetings. These books are exceedingly valuable in view of the present meeting of the Commissioners on the question of disarmament, and along with the other superb publications of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace they have a distinct value not only for the present but for the future. Whilst necessarily the complete reading of volumes of this character would be almost impossible for a busy man, as a reference upon all international questions we know of nothing to take their place and believe that their continued publication will be of vast benefit to the lawyers and statesmen of the whole world.